LUMBER MEN CONFER.

Twenty-five Present at Wednesday's Meeting—Agree on List to Be Sent Members—Freight Rates Discussed.

The Lumber Manufacturers' association of Southern New England held a meeting in A. B. S. hall Wednesday. The association numbers 75 members and there were present 25. President C. H. Child of Putnam was unable to attend, so C. M. Ely of Manchester presided. Three new members were voted into the organization; official notice was given of the death of two members, H. D. Moulton of Monson, Mass., and J. M. White of Coventry.

Among the questions of membership it was suggested as the plans of the association were so feasible and beneficial, and that as they appealed to all lumber manufacturers, a journey through the three states, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut, from which the membership was drawn, that the membership could be more than trebled. It was suggested that in the spring some of the members might get an automobile and make a systematic canvass of the states mentioned. No action was taken upon the suggestion. The entire forenoon was devoted to the matter of disposing of lumber in the hands of the members. There is a sales committee, and this committee according to the action taken Wednesday forenoon, will hereafter receive a statement from all members desiring to profit by it, of all lumber that they may have on hand and for which they are seeking a market. These lists will be sent to the sales committee chairman between the 25th and the last day of the month. The lists will then be printed and sent to every member of the association before the 5th of the next month, which will afford the members an opportunity to know where there is available lumber, what kind of lumber, and the quantity wanted. The sales committee is to be a sort of clearing house for the association. It is expected that this information which the members will give will tend to make the sales of the members of the association much larger and more profitable than at present. The expense of the work will at present be borne by the association, and if it proves to work out well the expense will later be borne by members individually.

A recess was taken at 12:30 o'clock for dinner. The session for the afternoon opened at 2 o'clock, and another member was voted into the association. The committee on conference reported relative to the matter of a new freight rate into eastern Massachusetts, further into New Hampshire and Maine, and also into western Connecticut. It was really a report of progress only, as the committee has as yet received no definite assurance from the railroad companies. The lumber men are very desirous of securing a reduction in freight rates to the points mentioned. Adjournment was taken at 3:30 o'clock. The next session of the association will be held at Hotel Garde, Hartford, Wednesday, February 12, 1913.

ROAD IN COURT.

Three Counts Against Him and Fourth to Be Named—Case Continued to January 4.

Wednesday morning Clinton C. Rood, the chauffeur who struck and injured the Hedin and Hurler boys with an automobile Monday afternoon, appeared before the police court, but was not put to plea. Prosecuting Attorney E. Frank Bugbee stated there were three counts against Rood and that a fourth one would be added before the case came to trial. The counts charge Rood with operating a motor vehicle on Main street at a speed greater than reasonable, with operating a motor vehicle on Main street in a way to endanger lives of people, with operating a motor car on Valley street at a greater speed than reasonable, and the fourth count will charge Rood with operating a motor vehicle on Valley street in a way to endanger the lives of people.

Prosecutor Bugbee states that reports from St. Joseph's hospital tended to show that the injured boys were resting as comfortably as could be expected, and he hoped that one of them at least would be in condition to appear in court and testify for the state within a space of two weeks. He therefore suggested that the case be continued for two weeks. Judge William A. Arnold ordered the case continued until Saturday, Jan. 4, and Rood was released under the same bond given Tuesday afternoon.
